Review Form Response

Review FOSS4G Academic Track Submission

This form is for reviewing a FOSS4G Academic Track Submission.

Remarks to the editors *

It is important that this article should be presented in the conference as it shows the emergence of SDIs around the world.
Nevertheless, to be accepted and presented, this article needs a full rewriting and huge improvements. A large amount of work has been done during the reviewing to improve the text of this article as you can see in the attached file. I hope it will help the authors.

I advise the editors to only accept this paper if a major review is done (I can do this second review if necessary)

Remarks to the author

Your article can only be accepted if you do a major review.

As a reviewer, I think it is important that your work should be presented and I did my best to correct most of your text but your article will need further work, particularly improving the structure of the content. All the corrections, remarks and questions of your article have been done directly in the text of the document that you will find in the attached file. I hope that these elements will help you.
